INTRODUCTION

1.1 THE COMMISSIONER'S MESSAGE

I deem it a great honour to present to the Parliament of Ghana the 30th edition of the Annual Report of the Commission on Human Rights and Administrative Justice, which catalogues activities recorded in the 2023 reporting year.

The year was historic as the Commission commemorated a 30-year milestone under the theme: CHRAJ at 30 Promoting and Protecting Human Rights and Ensuring Transparency and Accountability in Public Service Delivery.

Purposefully, efforts were made to assess the successes chalked despite the numerous challenges and the impact made by the Commission on the Ghanaian society towards advancing a culture of human rights, integrity and accountability. The commemorative celebrations were marked by zonal workshops, health walks, and public engagements. Particularly, over 300 head porters (Kayayei) were educated on the Commission's mandates and provided with free health screening and other health products.

In its efforts to promote and protect human rights, the Commission, with support from development partners, developed the National Action Plan on Business and Human Rights, trained staff to respond appropriately to the needs of Key Populations, and provided medical and psychological screening as well as support for women at risk of or experiencing witchcraft accusations. Pursuant to the Ombudsman mandate, the Commission sustained the protection and promotion of administrative justice to ensure government and its officials are accountable and transparent in performing their duties. The continued reform and strengthening of the current structures, processes, and internal management functions to provide more accessible, modernised, and timely services to improve administrative justice services under the National Public Sector Reform Strategy (NPSRS) is in progress.

In the fight against corruption, the Commission offered training on National Anticorruption Action Plan (NACAP) under the Public Sector Integrity Programme for officials from Risk Management Departments in selected public sector institutions.

The Commission strengthened its engagements at the international and regional level having been elected as the Chair of the Network of African National Human Rights Institutions (NANHRI) and maintained its position as a Bureau (Board) Member of the Global Alliance of National Human Rights Institutions (GANHRI) and the presidency of the Network of National Human Rights Institution in West Africa (NNHRI-WA). The Commissioner also received the prestigious De Sanctis Foundation Award for the 2023 Human Rights Prize for his outstanding contributions to protecting human rights on the African continent. With my deepest gratitude, I sincerely acknowledge all stakeholders, development partners and the Commission's dedicated staff whose diverse contributions and unwavering commitment to the course of CHRAJ have continuously propelled us to deliver on our mandates.

CHRAJ in partnership with Crossroads International, Canada instituted a project titled, "Access to Justice Project on Gender Based Violence Against Elderly Women Alleged as Witches in Ghana" in 2021. Another phase of the project began in May 2023 and the following activities were implemented:

• Public Education and Sensitization Programmes

In July, public education and sensitization programmes were organized for selected women and children residing in the Gambaga, Nyani, Kukuo, and Kpatinga 'witch' camps. These programmes had a total of 205 beneficiaries, representing 194 women/girls and 11 men. The overarching goal of the programmes was to equip participants with knowledge about sexual and gender-based violence (SGBV) and mechanisms for addressing the wide range of such violence and other human rights violations, especially in relation to women and children experiencing or at-risk of witchcraft accusations.

Capacity Building Training Workshops

Capacity building training programmes were held in August at Gambaga, Wulensi, Gushegu and Yendi in the Northern and North East regions. A total of 130 participants benefited from these programmes comprising 26 women and 104 men. The participants included representatives from local CSOs (including NORSAAC, Songtaaba and ActionAid), government institutions (National Commission for Civic Education), assembly members, and gender equality champions. Other attendees included health professionals, media personnel and CHRAJ staff. The main objective was to sensitize and increase the capacity of participants on recent developments on the protection of elderly women accused of witchcraft and access to justice.

• Health and Psychological Screening Exercise

In September, the Commission in collaboration with the Ghana Heath Service at Nanumba South, Yendi, Gushegu and Gambaga municipalities, organized free health screening exercises for residents in Gambaga, Nyani, Kukuo, and Kpatinga 'witch' camps. A total of 458 individuals benefited directly from the health screenings. Out of this number, 447 were women and 11 men.

The programme aimed at promoting the rights of women and their dependents (children and grandchildren) living in 'witch' camps to quality healthcare. The Commission provided the medical teams with assorted medicines, diagnostic equipment, disposables and other logistics necessary for the effective conduct of the screening exercises. Medications were dispensed to participants, and referrals were made to nearby healthcare centres, where needed.

Protection of older women alleged as witches in Ghana project

The Commission in partnership with the France Embassy in Ghana commenced the aforementioned project in June 2023. The project was to accelerate efforts towards access to protection and justice for women and girls through the elimination of GBV perpetrated against women accused of witchcraft. Key objectives included raising public awareness, stakeholder engagements and the improvement of healthcare and livelihoods of at least 300 women living in 'witch' camps.

The following activities were implemented during the reporting period:

• Development of Information, Education and Communication (IEC) materials.

This activity covered the production and printing of various Information, Education, and Communication (IEC) materials. Specifically, a total of 100 copies of facilitation manual, 500 copies of factsheets with jackets, and 1000 copies of various posters were printed. These materials were used during the planned activities throughout the project implementation period.

• Provision of basic livelihood items

In August 2023, the Commission distributed basic livelihood items to women and children living in Gambaga, Kukuo, Kpatinga, and Gnani 'witch' camps. The items comprised 148 bags of rice, 46 boxes of soap, and 32 boxes of cooking oil. In all, a total of 403 beneficiaries were reached.

• Stakeholder meetings

Stakeholders' meetings were held in East Mamprusi and Gushegu in November, involving community/opinion leaders, and victims of GBV. In all, 65 persons participated in the events comprising 35 from East Mamprusi and 30 from Gushegu. Topics covered were; Gender, Gender Roles and Gender-Based Violence; Protection of GBV/Institutions for Redress and Recent Development in Legislation and Implications for Protection of Elderly Women Accused as witches.

• Sensitisation workshops for children in Basic/Secondary Schools

In October and November, CHRAJ organized two (2) sensitization workshops each at East Mamprusi and Gushegu municipalities. These workshops targeted Primary/Junior High School children and Senior High School students. In total, there were 273 participants consisting of 254 school children and 19 teachers. The three main topics discussed included Gender, Gender Roles and Gender-Based Violence; Protection of GBV/Institutions for Redress; and Recent Development in Legislation and Implications for Protection of Elderly Women Accused as witches.

• Community Radio Programmes

This activity involved discussions on radio stations concerning GBV, the new legislation prohibiting witchcraft accusations or any person professing to be a witch finder or doctor, as well as institutions for redress. The purpose of the programme was to reach out to members of the larger community.

• Psycho-Social and Mental Screening

The Commission contracted a Clinical Psychologist (Consultant) to undertake this assignment, which benefitted 335 women living in Gambaga, Kpatinga, Kukuo, and Gnani 'witch' camps.

3.1.4 Commemoration of International Landmark Days

The Commission commemorated international landmark days to raise awareness on human rights issues in the country:

• UN Zero Discrimination Day, March 1

The Commission issued a press statement which revealed that stigma and discrimination is the most insidious challenge to the management of HIV/AIDS in Ghana, a situation which discourages many people from seeking testing and counseling services concerning their status. The Commission made a call to action for government and all stakeholders to eradicate stigma and discrimination in all its forms, and to promote social inclusion and tolerance.

International Women's Day, March 8

The Commission issued a press statement; under the theme "DigitAll: Innovation and Technology for Gender Equality". The statement focused on how digital inequality impacts the social positioning of women in society. It noted the gendered dimension of inequality cuts across all spheres in society such as economic development, education, access to healthcare, vulnerability to violence and political participation. Specifically, it noted that women are said to experience online abuse in the form of harassment, hate speech, cyber stalking and non-consensual distribution of photos. The statement concluded by entreating the government and its relevant agencies to design and/or implement innovative policies to improve access to technology by women and girls.

• World Day Against Child Labour, June 12

On the commemoration of World Day Against Child Labour, the Commission issued a press statement highlighting the link between social justice and child labour. The statement emphasized the need to ensure all children are given fair opportunities to education, and the ability to earn decent income and stable employment. The Commission thus called on the government to evaluate social protection policies and increase resource allocation to support their effective implementation.

• Day of the African Child, June 16

The Commission issued a press statement on the theme, "The Rights of the Child in the Digital Environment" with focus on encouraging member states to ensure the protection and promotion of children's rights in the digital environment. Cases of online child sexual exploitation and abuse has seen a steady rise in Ghana. A survey by the Cyber Security Authority revealed that 2,331 out of 3,600 school children interviewed had received sexual content online. The statement called on government and other state organizations to consolidate the efforts of law enforcement agencies to facilitate investigations and gather solid evidence to prosecute criminals.

• International Day in Support of Victims of Torture, June 26

Another press statement was issued to commemorate the International Day in Support of Victims of Torture under the theme; "Torture is a crime against humanity". The statement noted that despite the existence of relevant legislation prohibiting torture and abuse, there have been continuous reports of cases of police brutalities, allegations of arbitrary or unlawful killings, threats of violence against journalists, and intimate partner violence. Also, the overcrowded situation of Ghana's prisons was highlighted, with an overcrowding rate of 150% of capacity representing an increase of 15% from 2021. It was recommended that the government allocate resources to prisons and rehabilitation centers to deal with overcrowding and insanitary conditions, inadequate medical care, allegations of physical abuse and substandard food.

• International Day of Older Persons, October 1

A press statement was released under the theme; "Fulfilling the promises of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights for Older Persons: Across Generations" to commemorate the day. It highlighted older people's rights and the need for intergenerational solidarity through equity and reciprocity. The statement emphasized the Criminal Offences (Amendment) Bill, 2022 passed by parliament in July 2023 to proscribe witchcraft allegations in Ghana, which is yet to be assented by the President. Also, the National Ageing Bill has not been passed into law, which is very critical in streamlining the rights of older persons in the national development agenda. Accordingly, it was recommended that government should expediate processes in passing the National Ageing Bill as well as the President assenting to the Criminal Offences (Amendment)

Bill, 2022 into law to safeguard the rights of elderly women who are mostly at risk of witchcraft allegations and its associated human rights violations.

• International Human Rights Day, December 10

Strengthening the Grievance Handling Procedure at CHRAJ

Under the World Bank Public Sector reform for Results Project (PSRRP), four (4) zonal training was conducted for CHRAJ staff on the concept of grievance redress and complaints handling for administrative services.

Summary of selected cases:

Case No: CHRAJ/62/2020

The Complainants, Philip Bortey and 17 others, lodged the instant complaint against the Ghana National Fire Service (GNFS), the Respondent. The Complaint was lodged on behalf of some persons who were part of the 4th batch of recruits conducted by the GNFS during the 2017/2018 recruitment exercise but were not given appointment letters. Aggrieved by the conduct of the Respondent GNFS, Complainants lodged the instant complaint seeking the intervention of the Commission to redress a very unfair situation of outright discrimination, fraud, and abuse of power.

The complainants alleged that somewhere in 2017-2018, the Respondent GNFS advertised for interested persons to apply for recruitment and they applied and went through the necessary processes, including undertaking a one-week orientation at Respondent's Training School in batches of 1, 2, 3 and 4. That, the 1st, 2nd and 3rd batches went through the one-week orientation, attachment at various Regional Fire Service Offices for four (4) months each and then subsequent 2 months training at Respondent's training school before passing out.

Complainants further alleged that the 4th batch, made up of 876 recruits, also went through a similar process, including one-week orientation and 4 months attachments at various Regional Fire Service Stations. Some of the recruits were called up to report for their appointment letters/graduation without complainants. When complainants inquired why they were left out, Respondent informed them that the GNFS has only one Training School and could accommodate only 571 and that complainants will also have their turn. The 571 recruits were duly trained and passed out/graduated on 25th October 2019 but complainants were never called up and have their fate hanging in the balance.

Complainants alleged that the Assistant Fire Officer of Respondent was interviewed on TV3 where he assured that the remaining members of the 4th Batch would be invited on 20th October, 2019 to pass out on 20th December, 2019. However, complainants have not been called up for the training and subsequent graduation.

The Respondent GNFS confirmed that it carried out a recruitment exercise in 2018, involving various stages: online application, authentication of documents, and medicals. After the online application exercise, successful applicants were invited for a week orientation and documentation at the GNFS Training School, Accra in batches, after which they were sent to the regions for attachment. That the process saw to it that all successful candidates who went through the recruitment exercise and attachment were brought back to the GNFS Training School where they were trained and passed out.

The Respondent stated further that it observed during the attachment that some applicants who were not invited for orientation also found their way to the GNFS Fire Academy and Training School for the one-week orientation and subsequently to attachment without appointment letters signed by the Chief Fire Officer. A validation exercise was carried out to identify this category of applicants, and those who were found after the validation exercise to have met all the recruitment criteria but had not been invited due to limited vacancies were eventually considered for appointment. The Respondent also stated that some 496 applicants did not qualify for varied reasons: a) 78 did not go through the online application, b) 13 failed medical examination, c) 237 did not undergo Medical Examination, d) 94 had no requisite Academic Qualification, and e) 75 were above the required age limit.

The Respondent, represented by DCOP Adutwum, Ag. Director, PPME/CSO, and DOI Mary Mensah, OIC Legal, provided additional information on their comments.

On the meaning of "qualified" that shows on the Screening Chit of applicants, Mr. Adutwum explained that it signified that the applicant's online application has been successful which qualifies him for the validation exercise.

On why some candidates with BECE certificates were disqualified, he explained that the drivers who hold BECE certificates and had ten (10) years' experience in driving qualify to be recruited, but they must go through driving and written tests. He stated further that even though the Respondent had vacancy for 152 drivers, they received over 200 applications from drivers alone.

On how the recruits were invited for medical examination, Mr. Adutwum explained that successful applicants were invited through text messages. Some applicants were disqualified on health grounds after the medicals while others were disqualified during training because they were found to be unfit.

Mr. Adutwum also explained that appointment letters were given to those who qualified before going for the attachment. On why the Complainants were not given appointment letters, he explained that after the orientation and the medicals those who qualified were posted to their respective regions for attachments. It was after the recruits had reported to the regions that the GNFS Head Office started receiving calls from the Regional Fire Officers that applicants who were not on the list provided them had accompanied those who had been posted for attachment although they did not have appointment letters. That these applicants formed the 4th batch and they were later invited for validation and those who were successful were recruited.

The Commission has, under Section 7(1) of Act 456 and Article 218 of the 1992 Constitution, mandate to investigate complaints involving human rights violations, administrative injustice and corruption.

Section 7 (1) (a) & (b) of Act 456 provides as follows:

In accordance with Article 218 of the Constitution, the functions of the Commission are,

- (a) to investigate complaints of violation of the fundamental rights and freedoms, injustice, corruption, abuse of power and unfair treatment of a person by a public officer in the exercise of his official duties;
- (b) to investigate complaints concerning the functioning of the Public Services Commission, the administrative organs of the State, the offices of the Regional Coordinating Council and the District Assembly, the Armed Forces, the Police Service and Prisons Services in so far as the complaints relate to the failure to achieve a balance structuring of those services or equal access by all to the recruitment of those services or fair administration in relation to those services".

The Ghana National Fire Service is one of the administrative organs of the State listed among the Public Services under Article 190(1) (a) of the Constitution. The complaint was lodged by identifiable Complainants, and the subject matter relate to equal access to recruitment of a public service institution. Accordingly, the Commission's mandate has been duly invoked.

Issues for Determination by the Commission

- 1. Whether or not the Complainants met the eligibility criteria for enlistment into the GNFS.
- 2. Whether or not the Respondent contravened Article 23 and 218 (b) of the Constitution in the recruitment exercise.

Whether the Complainant Met the Eligibility for Criteria for Enlistment into GNFS

The GNFS in 2017 published on its official website inviting eligible candidates to apply based on specified criteria and Complainants applied for consideration. The question was, did the Complainants meet the eligibility criteria for recruitment into the Service? To help us answer this question the Commission looked at the eligibility criteria and the evidence of compliance by the Complainants.

The Commission identified the following criteria:

- 1. Online application
- 2. Requisite academic qualifications/skills
- 3. Required age limit
- 4. Medical examination
- 5. Others

The Commission requested Complainants to provide relevant documents used in their application in response to the various vacancies advertised by the Respondent. Out of the 134 Complainants, only 67 were able to provide evidence of documents used in support of their online application. Out of the 67, 63 applicants met the Online application requirement and 4 did not, 59 of the Complainants met the age criteria and 8 did not.

On academic criterion, none of the 8 Officer Corps applicants met the requirement, 14 out of the 33 firefighters and Rescue Crew applicants met the requirement, and none of the Drivers/Driver Mechanics applicants met this criterion. For IT Technicians, Painting and Writing, Electronics/Auto Electricians/Electrical Engineering, Electricians, Caterers/Hospitality, Record and Archive Keeper, 1 out of 16 applicants met the requirement.

The Commission further observed that most of these applicants applied for the positions/vacancies without the requisite certificates or with certificates different from what the Respondent advertised.

After a careful consideration of the evidence before the Commission, the Commission found as a fact that only the 15 Complainants met the eligibility criteria prior to the medical examination. The medical examination is the last stage of the eligibility criteria provided by the Respondent. This is to ensure that applicants who qualified to be employed into Respondent's Service meet the medical fitness specified by the Respondent. Thus, successful applicants were invited to undertake medical examination at medical facilities provided by the Respondent and given appointment letters. A number of the Complainants produced medical reports from various medical facilities other than that designated by the Respondent in support of their case and argued among others that they have been made to incur cost. However, since invitation for the medical examination was dependent upon one's qualification at the screening stage, and done at the medical facility provided by the Respondent, the medical results presented by applicants from other health facilities other than those provided by the Respondent would not satisfy the requirement.

As noted above, the 15 Complainants who met the eligibility criteria prior to medical examination ought to have been invited by the Respondent to undergo the official medical examination. Since the Respondent failed to invite the 15 to undergo the medical examination, they cannot be said to have failed the medicals. Accordingly, the Commission finds as a fact the 15 Complainants satisfied the eligibility criteria for recruitment into the Respondent GNFS

Did the Respondent Contravene Articles 23 and 218 (b) of the Constitution in the Recruitment Exercise

The Complainants alleged that the Respondent discriminated against them and treated them unfairly by failing to give them equal access in the recruitment exercise.

The Respondent on the other hand denied the allegations and indicated among others that the Complainants failed to meet the eligibility requirement for the recruitment into the GNFS. Further, they explained that the GNFS had financial clearance to recruit a particular number of people, and the applicants were far in excess of that number.

Did Respondent contravene Articles 23 and 218(b) or discriminate against Complainants?

As noted above, out of the 134 Complainants on whose behalf the Complaint was lodged, only 15 met the eligibility criteria for enlistment into the Service. Having failed to meet the eligibility criteria, the Respondent had no legal obligation to recruit them into the Service as there would have been no legal or lawful basis for such recruitment. The evidence before the Commission indicates that the Respondent gave equal access to the applicants for the recruitment exercise, but the 119 Complainants failed to meet the entry requirement. Accordingly, the Commission finds as a fact that the 119 Complainants have failed to meet the eligibility criteria for enlistment. We also find that the Respondent did not discriminate or perpetrate fraud against the 119 Complainants, or abuse the power entrusted to them as alleged; nor did they contravene Articles 23 and 218(b) of the Constitution in the Recruitment Exercise.

The Respondent had also offered the explanation that they had financial clearance for a specified number, and once that number had been exhausted, they could not recruit additional personnel, even if they met the eligibility criteria. In effect, they were arguing, in respect of the 15 Complainants who met the eligibility criteria, that they could not have employed them because they had exhausted the quota given under the financial clearance.

The question is, is the explanation given for failing to recruit the 15 successful applicants into the Service reasonable, rational, and fair?

One of the standards of assessment helpful to defining the scope of administrative justice in Common Law Jurisprudence is the Wednesbury Test or Principle set out in United Kingdom Court of Appeal case of Associated Provincial Picture Houses Ltd v Wednesbury Corporation [1948] 1 KB 223. The Supreme Court of Ghana cited the Wednesbury Test with approval in the Ghanaian case of Awuni v. West African Examination Council [2003-2004] SCGLR 471. In that case, Her Ladyship Sophia Akuffo, JSC, noted at page 514 of the Report that:

"Where a body or officer has an administrative function to perform, the activity must be conducted with, and reflect the qualities of fairness, reasonableness and legal compliance".

In the Wednesbury Case, Lord Greene MR at page 230 provided the guide for assessing administrative decisions and actions. He explained that an irrational decision is the one that is "so unreasonable that no reasonable authority could ever have come to it".

Unreasonableness would seem to exist where the authority exercising the discretion has taken a decision which is devoid of any plausible justification and any authority or done in bad faith. In the case of Associated Provincial Picture Houses Ltd. v Wednesbury Corporation, it was held that if the decision on a competent matter is so unreasonable that no reasonable authority could ever come to it, then the courts can interfere.

Is the explanation of the Respondent regarding the quota of financial clearance unreasonable?

The Public Financial Management Act, 2016 (Act 921), more specifically Sections 20, 21 and 25, provide us the answers to what pertains to commitment of public expenditure in respect of recruitment under the PFM Act.

Section 20 provides as follows:

(1) The Minister shall

- (a) subject to Cabinet approval, issue guidelines for the preparation of the budget for each financial year; and
- (b) circulate copies of the guidelines to each covered entity not later than the 30th of June of every year.

(2) The guidelines shall include

(f) the ceilings on the required number of staff for each covered entity and the cost of appropriation for the relevant year for the public service.

Section 21

- (4) The estimates of expenditure of all public offices and public corporations other than those set up as commercial ventures, shall (a) be classified under programmes or activities in the Appropriation Bill to be introduced into Parliament, and (b) in respect of payments charged on the Consolidated Fund, be laid before Parliament for the information of members of Parliament.
- (5) The annual budget shall

(ix) the ceilings on the required number of staff for each Ministry, Department or Agency and the corresponding amount appropriated to operate the public service for the ensuing financial year.

Section 25

- (4) A Principal Spending Officer or any other public officer shall not commit Government to a financial liability, including contingent liability, unless that Principal Spending Officer is specifically authorised to do so under this Act, the Regulations or directives issued pursuant to this Act.
- (5) A commitment in respect of staff recruitment shall, subject to financial clearance by the Minister, be within the limits set by Parliament under Section 21 (5) (e) (ix).

Regulation 15 of the Public Financial Management Regulations, 2019 (L.I. 2378) also has similar provisions. Simply put, a Public Entity cannot commit the Government to any financial expenditure without lawful authorization. This means that a Public Entity can neither recruit staff without financial clearance nor can it exceed the financial clearance given at any given period.

The Commission finds the Respondent's explanation of having exhausted the quota of financial clearance not unreasonable or irrational or unfair. However, the Commission is of the considered view that the 14 remaining Complainants who met the eligibility criteria but were not given opportunity to undergo medical examination should be given the first option to be enlisted into the Service in the next future recruitment.

Decision

Having established that the 14 of the remaining Complainants were successful with their application, the Commission directs the Respondent to give the said 14 Complainants the first opportunity in the next future recruitment into the Service. The Complaints of the other 119 Complainants are dismissed as unmeritorious.

3.3 Strategic goal 3 (SO3): Corruption in Ghana reduced by 5% by 2025

3.3.0 Introduction

Summary of Selected Cases

CASE NO: CHRAJ/HQ 27/2022

On 31 January 2022, Sacut Amenga-Etego (the Complainant) lodged a complaint with the Commission, alleging procurement breaches and abuse of office by Mr. Paul Adom Otchere (the Respondent) in his capacity as Board Chairman of the Ghana Airports Company Ltd (GACL) concerning the procurement of Christmas Trees for GACL in 2021.

The GACL has been decorating its Airports with Christmas Trees and Lightings during Christmas festivities each year. In December 2021, the GACL decorated the Kotoka International Airport, Terminals 2 and 3 with some Christmas Trees and Lightings. Subsequent to this, some media reports alleged that the Respondent had requested potential vendors interested in supplying Christmas Trees and Lightings to the GACL to issue their invoices in the Respondent's name. It was also alleged that the GACL had spent about One Hundred and Eighteen Thousand Ghana Cedis (GH¢118,000.00) of public funds on the said Christmas Trees and Lightings.

It is against the backdrop of reports that the Complainant lodged the instant complaint against the Respondent, containing a number of allegations, summarized as follows:

- (i) Respondent is the Board Chairman of GACL, a company owned by the citizens of Ghana;
- (ii) Respondent is a host of a Television Programme on Metro TV called 'Good Evening Ghana'; and on the 07 January 2022 edition of the programme stated that he used public funds in procuring Christmas Trees for the GACL;
- (iii) Respondent stated that he invited two (2) vendors to submit quotations for the Christmas decorations and received quotations amounting to GH@118,000.00 from the 2 vendors;
- (iv) Respondent breached Section 43 (1) of the Public Procurement Act, 2003 (Act 663) as amended by inviting only 2 vendors for procurement of Christmas Trees in December 2021;
- (v) The total value for the procurement of the Christmas Trees, that is GH@118,000.00, is above the threshold according to the 5th schedule of Act 663, as amended;
- (vi) The transaction ought to have gone through National Competitive Tendering procedures because it is above the threshold of GH$\nabla$100,000.00;
- (vii) The transaction was split in order to avoid being above the GH¢100,000.00 threshold contrary to Section 21 (6) of Act 663, as amended;
- (viii) Respondent directly involved himself in the procurement of the Christmas Trees as a Board Chairman which is an abuse of office;
- (ix) The statement by Respondent that the GACL received a donation of GH₡50,000.00 towards the purchase of the Christmas Trees and for that reason the actual cost of the Christmas Trees is GH₡78,000.00 is not correct in view of the Public Financial Management Act, 2016 (Act 921); and

(x) Respondent has breached the principles of corporate governance because the Chief Executive Officer runs the day-to-day activities of the GACL including procurement whilst the Board Chairman runs the Board.

The Respondent, in compliance with the Commission' subpoena, appeared before the Commission on the 30 June 2022 and stated that the process at the GACL resulting in the Christmas Trees and Lighting decorations in 2021 did not lend itself to Act 663, as amended. That the GACL rented the Christmas decorations and did not procure same. Respondent submitted a letter from the Ministry of Transport to back his claim.

The Respondent submitted to the Commission a copy of a Cheque from Societe Generale Bank in the name of DDP Outdoor Limited with a face value of Forty-Six Thousand, Two Hundred and Fifty Ghana Cedis (GH@46,250.00) in favour of Favors and Arts Company, as sponsorship by DDP Outdoor Limited to the GACL.

On 18 October 2022, Respondent submitted his comments to the Commission in which he repeated, in essence, the position taken by him during his appearance before the Commission. While admitting that he used the word "procure on the show", he indicated that the word "procure" as used by him did not mean "procure" as contemplated by the Act. That the word procure does not mean the technical word referred to in the Act. He added that acquisition of property and rental are two (2) different things. He indicated also that the Petitioner should have exhausted domestic remedies. He therefore referred to section 13 of the Act 456 which empowers the Commission to refrain from investigating where there is administrative remedy. He concluded by praying the Commission to explain to the Petitioner and the public the non-applicability of the procurement law to the process and the absence of any breach of the law.

The issues for determination are as follows:

- 1. Whether the Respondent stated on Good Evening Ghana programme that he used public funds to procure Christmas Trees.
- 2. Whether the Respondent stated that he invited two (2) vendors to submit quotations.
- 3. Whether the Respondent received quotations amounting to GHS118,000.00.
- 4. Whether the transaction was split into two (2) to avoid being above GHS100,000.00

- 5. Whether the process of renting of Christmas Trees by the Ghana Airports Company amounts to procurement and thus amenable to the provisions of the Procurement Act, 2016(Act 663) as amended.
- 6. Whether the Respondent acted in breach of Act 663 as amended.
- 7. Whether the Respondent abused his office as Board Chairman of the GACL.
- 8. Whether the Respondent breached the Public Financial Management Act 2016 (Act 921) and principles of corporate governance.
- 9. Whether the Complainant is entitled to the reliefs claimed.

Summary of key findings

- 1. The Respondent did not state on the 7 January 2022 edition of the "Good Evening Ghana" programme that he used public funds to procure Christmas inspirations.
- 2. The Respondent did not state that he invited two (2) vendors to submit quotations.
- 3. The Respondent did not invite suppliers to submit quotations.
- 4. The Respondent did not receive quotations amounting to GHS118,000.00.
- 5. The Respondent partly interfered in the procurement of Christmas inspirations by the GACL in 2021 by making demands for Invoices.
- 6. The interference by the Respondent amounted to abuse of office.
- 7. The Respondent communicated in the media on matters relating to the procurement of the Christmas inspirations by the GACL.
- 8. The interference of the Respondent in the procurement of Christmas trees by the GACL and communications by him were contrary to the principles of corporate governance.
- 9. The GACL has over the years from 2018 to date been renting Christmas inspirations without recourse to the Procurement Act, 2003(Act 663) as amended.
- 10. The Christmas inspirations for 2021 were valued at GHS128,000.00 and not GHS118,000 as alleged by the Respondent.
- 11. The transaction was split into two (2), contrary to the provisions of Act 663 as amended.

Observations

The conduct of the Respondent in requesting for invoices and his appearance on media in respect of matters involving the GACL of which he is the Board Chairman does not augur well for corporate governance.

Additionally, the GACL has over the years considered rental of Christmas trees as being outside the procurement law. For that reason, GACL management has not been applying provisions of Act 663, as amended. We consider this as an anomaly and ought to cease forthwith. The Commission noted that the failure to define procurement under the Act may have accounted for this.

Decision

Accordingly, the Commission decides as follows:

- The GACL should henceforth apply the provisions of the Public Procurement Act, 2003(Act 663) as amended in the renting of Christmas inspirations and all renting situations it may engage in.
- 2. The Respondent should desist henceforth from commenting on procurement issues in the GACL in the media either in his personal capacity or as Board Chairman so long as he remains on the Board of the GACL.
- 3. The Respondent should desist from interfering in the day-to-day administration of the GACL and leave same to management.

The Public Procurement Authority should take steps to cause the amendment of Act 663 to clearly include an interpretation of the terminology "procurement".

CHAPTER FOUR

ACCOUNTABILITY REPORT

4.1 Transparency Standards

Transparency refers to the freedom to seek, receive and impart information, which is integral to freedom of expression, transparency in elections, among others.

The Right to Information (RTI) Act, 2019 (Act 989) promotes transparency and accountability, and the Commission has a designated Right to Information Officer to oversee its operations.

The Commission received four (4) information request applications in 2023 of which appropriate responses were given.

4.2 Downwards Accountability Standards

Downward accountability standards connote processes by which senior managers of an organisation are held accountable to the people at various levels within that organisation. These are stakeholders, including employees and their families, Complainants and Respondents, who are members of the communities within which the organisation operates. This contrasts with upward accountability through which senior managers are held accountable to higher-level boards of directors. The shortcomings of upward accountability appear to have influenced the relevance of downward accountability in corporate governance.

The concept of downward accountability is highly encouraged at the Commission. One way to ensure this is through staff durbars or open forums which usually take place at the end of every calendar year. At these durbars, there are frank and open discussions between senior managers and other employees. Senior managers account for their stewardship to the entire membership of the Commission. A question-and-answer session is always included, during which issues and policies are explained. Further, the Commissioner participates in the National Executive Committee annual meeting of the CHRAJ Staff Association (CHRAJSA). At these meetings, the Commissioner addresses all grievances from the regional representatives. Additionally, the Commissioner attends the congress of CHRAJSA every four years to address matters pertaining to management of the Commission.

Another method of downward accountability is through workshops and programmes where staff have the opportunity to interact with management.

At the end of every national service year, service personnel at the Commission get the opportunity to meet with the Commissioner and other senior managers to discuss challenges and offer suggestions for future improvement.

CHAPTER FIVE

ENVIRONMENTAL STATEMENT

Human rights and the environment are intrinsically connected. A healthy and sustainable environment is essential to the enjoyment of human rights. Activities which interfere with sustainable environments potentially violate human rights.

The Commission has prioritized efforts to promote and protect the environment and human rights with the creation of the Strategic Management and Innovation (SMI) department. The department is a combination of Strategic Management and the Technology and Innovation (TI) unit. Among other responsibilities, the SMI department is responsible for leading the digitalization process of the Commission and rolling out programmess to support the execution of the 2021-2025 strategic plan and similar plans.

The Commission's digital transformation brings new set of tools that enables staff to improve work processes through smart applications. The capability to use the Commission's limited resources efficiently plays a significant role in supporting to build a sustainable environment – in keeping with SDG Goal 15 of ensuring the conservation, restoration and sustainable use of environmental resources such as indiscriminate felling of trees for paper production.

The Commission since 2021,

- began a nationwide corporate email and Microsoft teams' rollout. This professional digital platform is projected to contribute to a paperless system of work processes and reduce non-essential travels for meetings.
- is championing a digital record keeping system through a case management system. This initiative is part of a broader digital transformation roadmap. Digitization of closed cases has been commissioned to support paperless investigation processes and safer record keeping. Over the period 1,020 cases were scanned and documented.
- continues to participate in stakeholder workshops on the SDGs which highlight the importance of maintaining sustainable environmental actions.
